A watercolor illustration of a person walking away from the viewer on a path that leads towards a range of mountains in the distance. The person is wearing a long, light-colored coat or robe. The path is flanked by trees and foliage, rendered in soft watercolor washes. The overall style is artistic and evocative.

J.F.

Sweet be thy memory,
High School of ours;
Fair be thy destiny,
fadeless thy flowers;
Hearts that have loved thee
have won in life's fight;
Names that we honor,
thy standard holds bright.

Our Alma Mater dear, to thee we sing;
May all thy future years
new honors bring;
May friends thy banners raise,
thy foes grow less;
All love and praise
to our old E. H. S.

Why Mark Twain?

Mark Twain wrote many stories about you. You are Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, Becky Thatcher, because they are Youth, real Youth—always enthusiastic, curious, searching for meanings in life, always seeking hidden treasure.

That's you as you have been throughout your years here at East,

And that's you as it is hoped you will be for the rest of your lives.

Authors of Education . . .

Just as an author guides the action of a book, so the administrative staff propels the school along the right path. As characters must be directed and kept moving, so must the faculty and students.

A sincere interest in his school's activities and accomplishments has brought Mr. Wolgast the respect and admiration of all who know and work with him.

MR. WOLGAST

W. Wolgast

With a constant sense of humor, Mr. Myers carries out his duties as Vice Principal and gives a friendly nudge in the right direction to those who seek his assistance.

MR. MYERS

The Annex, under the tutelage of Mr. Clark, Principal, has made great progress during the past year. His deep interest in student government activities has helped to further cement the bond between the Annex and the Main Building.

GUIDANCE

Tom and Huck, noted for getting into mischief, often bit off more than they could chew. When that happened, it was Aunt Polly who showed the boys the error of their ways.

Today, instead of Aunt Polly, we have the Guidance Department here at school to help us out of our difficulties, self-made or otherwise. Always ready to play the role of confidant or guide, our advisors help us to straighten out our problems and plan our futures.

MRS. DAVIS

Tactfully firm . . . politely persuasive.

Putting Ideals Into Practice . . .

MR. WOLGAST

Many people like to give teen-agers advice on how to improve their behavior, but these people seldom set a good example by their own actions. Because Mr. Wolgast is a man of action and not just words, and because he pursues what he believes in, we dedicate this book to him.

For thirty-five years Mr. Wolgast has served the school first as social studies teacher and later as principal. But in that time, he has been much more to us than merely an administrator. The humanity and interest he has shown in both students and faculty have made him invaluable to East High.

Mr. Wolgast has an ideal for the educational system, an ideal which is not only theoretical but one which he has put into operation. For he believes that real democracy should be exercised in the schools, and it is this practice which has benefited us here at East.

In our Student Government Association, for example, we, as students exercise more real authority and more genuine freedom of action than many other high school students. This is largely due to the confidence Mr. Wolgast has in us and in our ability to make sound decisions and to manage affairs for ourselves.

But the democracy Mr. Wolgast advocates for the school is also a personal matter with him, for he has a high regard for the practice of fair play. He is willing to recognize and examine both sides of a question, and he invariably chooses what he feels will serve our best interests. The fact that he follows and applies what he believes in sets a good example for the rest of us.

With the respect of all, this modest, friendly man, whose name has been virtually synonymous with East High School, is ending his career this year. As Mr. Wolgast leaves us, we all join in expressing our appreciation for what he has taught us by the example he has set for us. And we extend our sincerest hope for his continued happiness in the future.

A genuine interest in his students . . .

Taking a New Road . . .

On the journey of life, we sometimes find it necessary to change our course and take a new road. Three of our teachers, Mr. Ellis S. Smith, Miss L. Stoneburg, and Mr. A. Whitaker, have decided to embark upon the road of retirement this year. As they leave, we extend our appreciation to them for having had the privilege of knowing and working with them. We will long remember their contributions to our lives.

Few teachers have been as able to penetrate the wall that students often build around themselves as has Mr. Smith. In his thirty-five years as English teacher, his eagerness to help, his generosity, his friendliness, and his expectation of each pupil's best have kept him in the student's realm of life.

In his thirty-two years as English teacher, Mr. Whitaker has always emphasized scholarship in his effort to help his pupils better themselves. An amiable instructor, his teaching has also helped lay a technical foundation of English which has benefited his students throughout high school, college, and professional life.

Our traditional carnival, the Roman State, and Vox Civitatis, the Latin newspaper, have become an integral part of East High through the efforts of Miss Stoneburg. During her fifty years here, these and her many other interests have broadened and enriched the lives of all whom she has taught.

Let's Whitewash the Fence! . . .

MR. WOODAMS

MRS. KALMN

Steering the class of '58 clear of obstacles and giving us encouragement to "whitewash the fence" are Mrs. Kalmn and Mr. Woodams, our class advisors.

Mrs. Kalmn's mature judgment and the cheerful friendliness so characteristic of her have aided and encouraged us in seeking and conquering new goals for our class.

Always looking ahead, Mr. Woodams, with his generous sense of humor and understanding of our generation, has helped us through many of our difficulties and has made our jobs more fun to do.

A Recipe for Success . . .

SENIOR OFFICERS

Plans for the year's activities are made by Vice President, Sal Giunta; Secretary, Jean Biondo; Treasurer, Louis Bouchard; Social Chairman, Lucille Fanelli; and President, Ronald Gigliotti.

Many ingredients are needed for a coherent organization. The ingredients necessary for the success of the senior class this year can be found in its officers. President Ronald Gigliotti provided the leadership for the class, while Sal Giunta added a pinch of levity along with hard work; Lucille Fanelli contributed plans for good times; Louis Bouchard added his wise handling of money; Jean Biondo's busy pencil wrote minutes. Add these together and you have a productive year for the class.

Councilors of Activity . . .

Back Row: P. Rizzo, N. Kahl, A. Lattime, A. Terrano, P. Kuhn, M. Rotoli, I. Binder, M. Cimino, L. Bouchard. Front

Row: R. Gigliotti, L. Fanelli, Mrs. Kalmn, J. Biondo, Mr. Woodams, S. Giunta.

Youth achieves its goals through organized planning. The Senior Council assisted by Mrs. Kalmn and Mr. Woodams, class advisors, has helped the class realize some of its ambitions this year.

Bearerers of "Old Glory" . . .

Keeping the standards of the class of '58 high, Joyce Gillespie and Oliver Swift, with the highest scholastic averages of the class, were appointed daughter of the flag and standard bearer of East High School, respectively.

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1958, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare this our last Will and Testament.

"Bones" Blanchard and Sherry Versprille leave their used casts to the E. H. S. trophy case.

Susie Knittel leaves her completed cartwheels to any determined contortionist.

Bill Lindner leaves everyone under six feet with a stiff neck.

Pat Green leaves a puzzled expression on Mr. Bacon's face.

The girls of the Orient staff leave the senior boys wondering which one of them was the Orient pin up.

Judy Straight leaves her harmonica, peanut butter sandwiches and millions of "sonimeters".

Bill Piffer and Bill Parr leave . . . and Mr. Woodams closes the door behind them with a sigh of relief.

Ellie Rose Oliveri leaves her squeaky laugh.

Chris Noun leaves that suave sophistication to the Beau Brummel of 1959.

Estelle DiMaria leaves Intermediate Algebra to anyone who can understand it.

Nancy Couse and Carol Collins leave their exalted positions at the A & P to anyone who has a strong back and plenty of corn plasters.

Igor Kozlowski leaves his soccer foot to upcoming soccer fiends.

Gloria Greco leaves Miss Neun four size 5 can-can costumes.

Mr. Fagan's fifth period American History class leaves him a 12,000 page manuel entitled "How to Challenge the Gifted Child."

Letitia Pusateri leaves her title of "Miss Monitor" to efficient policewomen of the future.

Dominic Piccirilli leaves the faculty a book on "How to Confuse Yourself and Your Teacher in One Easy Lesson."

Phyllis Rizzo leaves . . . and the study hall teachers rejoice.

George Boyd leaves two pillows so that his successor will sleep more comfortably than he did.

The Senior Class leaves Mrs. White all its cancelled postage stamps.

Sue Allegretti and Carol and Judy Emmanuel leave the school holding its sides.

Louie Bouchard leaves for the barber's.

Barbara Mertz leaves with the complaint that the floors of East High were built too close to her.

Mr. Joy wanted to know—does "Sche-nec- today?" We leave it to next year's Clarion Class to find out.

Phil Adams leaves a mangled football and a worn-out baseball bat.

Inky Binder leaves 10 tubes of lipstick . . . unused.

Paul Zielinski leaves . . . and the girls follow.

Satu Tainio, the Teen-aged Diplomat, leaves "Parhaimmat Onnentoivotukset" . . . best wishes from Finland.

Duly witnessed by the undersigned:

TO HUCK FINN—CONFIDENSAL

Dear Huck,

Yesterday me and some of the other guys didn't have nothing else to do so we hiked to the city to look around.

We was walking down the street looking at all the big buildings when who do we see getting out of his Stutz-Bearcat but the big oil tycoon R. J. Gigliotti. We woulda followed him but his valet Lynn Roberts gave us a dirty look so we scooted. As we was turning around we bumped into a stone wall which we found out was that champion wrestler Pete Tabone. After we picked ourselves up, we decided to follow him. He went in Sanza's Gym where all the great wrestlers practice and we tried to get in but the manager Clem Sanza threw us out. That's when these cute nurses Joyce Gillespie and Augie Calcagno comes along and helps us up. They tells us not to miss the take-off of a new rocket the Swiftnik made by nukleer scientists Harry Green and Oliver Swift. We seen the crowd acrost the street so we run over to see the rocket.

As we run acrost, we almost knocked over that Broadway actor Tab Cuseo. Then Policeman John LoPresti came over to see if we done any damage, but you know us, Huck, we didn't wait to find out. We ran into the crowd gathering around the rocket. You shoulda seen all the people! Frank Bruno's band was there playing the new Universal Anthem written by the march composer Dorothea R. Dys. The drummer Paul Dworkin even had a solo in it. And the Ambassador to the Moon, Elaine Primavera, give a speech on interplanetary relations. Then the stewardess Ingrid Binder says that they were almost ready to take off. We tried to get a closer look at the contraption but the steward Al Shuckra wouldn't let us.

We started to feel hungry and we noticed that we was near Lattime's Hide-away so, following the smell of food, we ended up in the kitchen. Grabbing a piece of pizza, with the chefs Al Peccora and Charles Ange shouting after us, we ducked thru some doors and found that we was in the main dining room where a floor show was going on. This choreographer Bob Fish was doing one of his modern dances and then Sue Allegetti kept us in stitches with her comedy act. After waiter Don Spera chased us out, we seen a couple of people on the street corner arguing. It was them two political opponents labor leader John L. Marciano and Gwen McSwain the only woman senator.

As we walked by the J. Ferrata Advertising Agency, along comes the coach of the New York Midgets, George Serbu and the pro-football player Pete Youngman. We watched them go in the T.V. station W.E.H.S. where announcer Paul Zielinsky was talking about this charity telethon sponsored by the well known philanthropist N. Phillip Hammond. We snuck in and heard part of it. There was concert soloist Curtis Jackson and the popular record star Ginger Lashbrook. Suddenly Joyce Scamacca from the J. P. Emmanuel Gazette rushes in and then the doorman Frank Vaccaro seen us and chased us away. We didn't have no place else to go and it was getting cold so we headed for home. We shur had fun tho. Youda loved it, Huck!

JUNIOR COUNCIL

The paddle-wheel river boats on the Mississippi that Tom Sawyer watched symbolized strength and power. But without a crew they would have been useless. Thus the class councils represent the crew of their class, co-ordinating its activities and guiding it through rough waters or smooth.

The Junior Council set an impressive course, which the Junior Class carried out with success. Under the direction of Captain Thomas Powell and advisors, Miss Curran and Mr. Welch, the class navigated through a profitable magazine sale, a winter dance, the Junior Prom, and the spectacular Sputnik booth at the Carnival. Their river boat heads toward the horizon of another successful year for the class.

SOPHOMORE COUNCIL

Captain Oren Oeschger did an admirable job of getting his class organized and ship-shape. With the aid of advisors, Mrs. Bushnell and Mr. Felber, the Sophomore Council planned a dance and plotted the course for an enjoyable spring assembly. The crew also co-operated to help make the Carnival a success and their own Baked Foods Sale, a prize winner. The Sophomore Class has its boilers up to full steam and is ready to depart for the next port on the river of knowledge.

Democracy at Work . . .

Seated: P. Zielinski, G. McSwain, Mr. McKie. Standing: Y. Knittel, D. Spera, E. Primavera.

The crack of the gavel calls the meeting to order. This is student government in action, the machinery of democracy running smoothly. Here at East, students are given the opportunity to make their S. G. A. work for them. With the help of Mr. McKie, this unique organization is responsible for the actions of the students. This experiment in democracy has always been a living organism, kept alive by the interest of the students. Because of the teamwork of the officers, this year has been particularly successful for our S. G. A. and for us.

Working closely with the President is the S. G. A. Cabinet. This part of our student government is the brain that keeps the machinery of democracy functioning. The various officers of the Cabinet keep us well informed of school activities. With each cog of the organization performing its job, the vital business of the school is conducted smoothly and efficiently. Assemblies are planned, awards are presented, clubs function, and the books are balanced all under the auspices of the Cabinet. To this vital member of our student government we give our thanks for keeping East High running smoothly for another year.

Lighting the Way to Safety . . .

STUDENT COURT—B. Mertz, I. Binder, S. Allegretti, O. Swift, J. Tilling, Miss Abramow, S. Leary, N. Kahl, J. Emmanuel, D. Vanderstouw, L. Montulli, M. Fisher.

STUDENT COURT

As there are violators of all laws, so are there of those of safety and the S. G. A. Offenders are fairly tried and, if guilty, fairly sentenced. In the process, they learn more respect for those laws and officers, meant to protect them. Miss Abramow and Judge James Tilling have tried this year to continue the upward swing of the Court's success. Because every student at the main building is subject to the authority of the Court, it is hoped that everyone will become more interested and active in it. Only when the monitors and a traffic squad are not needed will the Student Court become unnecessary.

TRAFFIC SQUAD—Mr. Morse, W. Henny, A. Mason, R. Werner, J. Di Mora, W. Hagadorn, R. Zoller, J. Pearl.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

Each member of the traffic squad could be considered a traffic light, warning against lack of safety-consciousness, protecting us from heedless rushing. Mr. Morse, advisor, and Ross Speranza, captain of the squad, have done much in the past year to bring a clearer understanding of the necessity of good safety-minded conduct to the student body. Working as a team, the squad has been able to keep the number of safety violators to a minimum and, in doing so, has won the respect of the students. Their protection outside of the school has been successful in guiding us in safety's path.

MONITORS

As the traffic squad promotes safety outside of school, the monitors pave the way for safety within the school. Under the advisorship of Mr. DiClemente, the monitors are the prime traffic lights in keeping the student body in line during school, on the stairs, in the halls, and in the lunchroom. On guard against speedsters, wrong-stairs-users, brawlers, and litterbugs, the monitors patrol the school with a smile, but also with wide open eyes. More care and a lack of haste on the part of the students can help the monitors to discharge their duties more easily and make East High a safer and cleaner place.

MONITORS—Top Stairs: J. McCormick, M. Villareale, J. Gatelare. Middle Stairs: L. Pusateri, S. Versprille. Bottom Stairs: N. Secor, J. Nielson, A. Eaffaldano, G. Pellegrino, A. Calcagno.

A Branch of East High . . .

A tree is a living structure in nature. As it grows it expands through its branches.

In its many years of development, East High School has seen the growth of its important branch, The East High Annex. Conducting classes for eighth and ninth graders, the Annex is the first taste of high school for many young people before entering the main building.

Conducting the activities of this arm of East High is the Annex House of Delegates. Here elected representatives from each homeroom help plan assemblies, organize school affairs, and help uphold the spirit of East High. Constance Love has served as president this year with the direction and advice of Mrs. Jones.

Careful Now . . .

Seated: C. Love, S. Crane, Mrs. Jones. Standing: N. Giunta, J. Taffner, N. Lowe, W. Benet, P. Brancatisano, S. Green, J. Coles, P. Camelio, B. Damico, S. Chimento.

ANNEX HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Your Move

Students of the Annex are concerned with many things other than the business of the school. Lunch period is a busy time for them. In one corner, a couple of boys can be seen engrossed in a checker game, with their friends kibitzing. Sounds of music and laughter stream from the gym as various forms of the G. I. are practiced. In another direction, a group watch the deft shove of the mallet as a shuffleboard game progresses.

Eyes Toward the Future . . .

F. N. A.

Prospective nurses, eager to learn more about their chosen professions and arouse the same interest in others, have now completed the second year of the organization, Future Nurses of America. Under the guidance of Miss Bassett and President Sherry Versprille, the F.N.A. has served to stimulate the hopes of many girls toward a future nursing career. The spirit of enthusiasm, so deeply embedded in the F.N.A., is sure to carry each of its members to her ultimate goal.

F. T. A.

The attributes so necessary for a good teacher have been realized and sought by this ambitious band as they have striven to learn more about their chosen career. Through observation and the practice of teaching skills, these Future Teachers of America have been able to familiarize themselves with the requirements and techniques they will need in their work. Mrs. Harris, Advisor, and Nancy Couse, President, share the enthusiasm with which F.T.A. members meet the steep climb before them.

Standing: R. Muller, S. Wright, J. Lord, J. Polvino, B. Dys. Sitting: A. Cuseo, C. Collins, N. Couse, Mrs. E. Harris, E. Primavera.

Seeing is one way of learning. To assist in our visual education, the Projection Club, under the supervision of Mr. Palmer, directs the mechanics of showing films and slides to various classes. But the profit motive also enters the activities of the group. By showing movies at the Carnival and the Red Cross, the Projection Club has often taken in sizable sums. Through their faithful work, President Jerry Barton and his crew continue to prove that the work behind the scenes is vital to East High.

Assisting the aspiring actors and actresses here at East, working behind the scene at all assemblies, doing their part to help the show go on—this is our energetic Stage Crew. Especially during big events such as our annual Senior Play and Frolics, the Stage Crew works diligently with Mr. Dolan to make all stage productions successful. John Thayer and Charles DiPerri, Stage Managers, and their group spend weeks constructing scenery and securing props to add just the right touches of completeness to our efforts.

CLARION

First the seeds of ideas spring up in the active minds of Judy Emmanuel and her editorial staff. There ideas grow and develop until, at a Clarion meeting, they crystallize into new assignments. Out of the blue, harried reporters besiege students and faculty with questions designed to produce an interesting story or a "new angle." When typed and ready, the articles appear before the editor, prepared to undergo delicate surgery. Page editors cut and snip until only the best is left. With Mr. Joy's approval, the copy is sent to the printer, and the presses begin to roll. Soon the salesmen take to the halls proclaiming the arrival of a new issue of the Clarion.

ORIENT

It started as an idea conceived after weeks of consuming thought. It grew until the entire staff, under the editorship of Carol Emmanuel fairly buzzed with excitement. Typewriters clicked, and fingers flew, trying to keep pace with the agile minds of the Orient staff. With Mr. Myer's guidance, ideas were born to be discussed, discarded, or utilized to their fullest. Section by section the book took form as the final deadline was reached. At last the announcement was made, and the creation of six months of toil and imagination was unveiled, a representation of our year at East.

IL PICCOLO SCRIVANO

Each succeeding year a new link is added to the chain of success that The Il Piccolo Scrivano has achieved through the years. There are now twenty-two links welded together making it the oldest of the chain of Modern Language newspapers in East High. It also holds the distinction of being the only newspaper of its kind in the United States. Mrs. Nolfi, providing the guidance, and Clement Sanza, acting as Editor, have provided many enjoyable and educational papers again this year.

Marie La Chimia and Nina Di Laura prepare pencils for the Renaissance Club annual pencil sale.

RENAISSANCE CLUB

The links of a chain must be welded securely to make it a useful chain. In much the same way, a successful club must be linked together by a competent advisor and a resourceful president. Mrs. Nolfi and Robert Sotile respectively have filled the preceding positions this year. The Renaissance established in 1927 is the oldest of the chain of modern language clubs. One of its main projects has been the awarding of college scholarships to exceptional students of Italian.

The Rhythms of Spain . . .

LA VIDA

The enthusiasm of the Spanish students in their activities may be likened to the lively, colorful rhythm of the Spanish music. Its accents set the pace for diligent group effort. "La Vida," newspaper of the Spanish classes, has received a sudden rush of interest under the co-editorship of Becky Dys and Barbara Caulfield, with Mrs. Harris as advisor. Written in Spanish, the newspaper attempts to use classroom knowledge in a practical, but interesting and meaningful way. The staff of "La Vida" succeeds very ably in a newspaper that matches the vivid rhythms of Spain.

Charles Stallman and Tom Zeh, of the Spanish Club, compare letters from their pen pals.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

The Spanish Club, under the leadership of President Charles Stallman, carries on its activities with much the same enthusiasm as its counterpart, Spanish newspaper. The club tries to promote a feeling of unity among all Spanish students by bringing them together in informal, but informative meetings which will heighten their knowledge and understanding of Spain and Spanish-speaking countries. The annual Pan American assembly is a group project, and its warmth and high-spirited gaiety have brought great recognition to the club, its staff, and Mrs. Harris for their fine work in this endeavor.

Seeds Bearing Fruit . . .

A tiny seed planted in the earth cannot live without water and sunshine just as an idea cannot grow and develop without interest and work. Ideas that spring up in the individual language clubs grow and materialize in the Modern Language Club. One of their ideas materialized into the Annual Holly Spray Sale. The green holly corsages grew into a different kind of green vegetation which was used to buy records and tapes to supplement classwork. We heartily congratulate the Modern Language Club and hope that its ideas and plans continue to be nourished with the same enthusiasm.

One way seeds are carried from their source to where we see them grow is the wind. The French newspaper, "L'Etoile," could be thought of as the wind that carries the ideas to the student from not only the French classes but from the school and the world. The French students themselves contribute to the newspaper, edited by Linda Schneider, with Miss Neun as advisor, but it is not all seriousness. Everyone who is connected with it considers it an honor, a privilege, and tremendous fun.

Service—Local and International . . .

LIBRARY CLUB

Service; or aid, may be rendered in various degrees of extensiveness. While aid of one type may concern only the immediate group at hand, other forms of aid may continually spread out, finally reaching thousands of miles away.

The purposes of the Library Club are two, for while the members help Miss Church in a variety of ways in the library, they also learn librarianship. Like many other school clubs, a job is really undertaken and accomplished by this one. These girls are truly being of service to East High, by aiding Miss Church, teachers, and each student using the facilities of the library, acting in the friendly helpful way so well recognized as a quality of a librarian.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Serving in a wider-reaching capacity, the members of the American Junior Red Cross, representatives from each of the homerooms, endeavor to help people the world over through their many drives. Under the advisorship of Mrs. Davis, Chairmen Susan Allegretti, Allan Cuseo and Ann Johnville supervise the various projects to collect money for the destitute and needy. Interest in Red Cross work should be instilled in all students, for the benefit to everyone is immeasurable.

Background Music . . .

Music sets the scene for many activities in which we engage everyday. Even in our activities related to school, we find the music of East High's band and orchestra setting the pace or just providing the background.

Reflecting the spirit of East High with their lively marches, the band can be seen at many school sporting events and parades. An assembly wouldn't be the same without the band or orchestra leading us in with a march or accompanying us in our Alma Mater. Between scenes of the Senior Play, the orchestra entertains the audience with tunes old and new. In the spring, both groups share the spotlight in their annual concert. Under the skillful baton of Mr. Starke, these organizations have enriched our school life.

SENIOR CHOIR

A hush falls over the audience as the director mounts the podium. Then, with a wave of his hand, the concert begins. The fruit of strenuous rehearsing wins the hearty applause of the audience. Director, Mr. Bilhorn, with the co-operative effort of many earnest young people, has again led the Senior Choir through an inspiring performance. We owe a debt of appreciation to our choir, which has enriched our enjoyment of music through their artistic interpretation.

COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

What to do with one's time is a constant problem we all face. One organization that helps its members to use their leisure wisely is the Community Service Club. While emphasizing good citizenship and service to others, this club helps members choose the right vocations for themselves. With Mrs. White as advisor, this club has continued to give service for seventeen years. Coordinating activities this year was President Gloria Lopez.

STAMP CLUB

Stamp collectors and enthusiasts have no trouble deciding what to do with their time. At East High's Stamp Club they can further develop their hobby and possibly correspond with student stamp collectors around the world. Under the leadership of President John Korchan, and Mrs. White, advisor, the club has contributed to local, national, and international exhibits.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT LIBRARY AIDES

Members of the English Library Aides spend their time in learning valuable skills and serving the school. In preparing books and pamphlets for use in the classroom, these people must be able to issue and check in books, repair damaged books, and keep a picture file up to date among their other tasks. Under the advisorship of Mrs. White, this group has proven that time can be spent in a way that is both useful and profitable.

Pumpkins, cornstalks, and autumn gaiety enveloped the school at this year's carnival, carrying out the "Harvest Festival" theme. As abundance is associated with this fall title, the reap of $1678 in profits, was in keeping with this tradition. The money was divided among the S. G. A., the Band-Uniform fund, and the various individual participating organizations. As in previous years, the Carnival, under the direction and guidance of Mr. DiClemente and Student Chairman, Sally Leary, helped to promote a closer student-faculty relationship.

The Co-Masters of Ceremonies, Don Spera and Bob Sotile, set the pace for the evening show. The coronation of their Royal Highnesses, Jean Biondo and Clem Sanza, highlighted an evening of excitement and fun.

Committee heads who coordinated the preparations for this big event were: Advisor, Mr. DiClemente; Chairman, Sally Leary; Tickets, Joyce Gillespie; Assemblies, Judy and Carol Emmanuel; Decorations, Marianne Utz; Concessions, Dave Schlageter; Publicity, Pat Green; Door Prizes, Joyce Colaice; and Refreshments, Jim Tilling.

Step Right Up . . . The Frolics is Here!

Senior Chorus Line triumphs

Direction by the expert

Music from Roberta Muller

A barker's cry brought everyone to East High on April 25 and 26 for the annual Frolics. In a carnival atmosphere, talent, enthusiasm, and a dab of stage make-up combined in the musical stage show directed by Mr. Dolan. Lively instrumentals, comedy groups and vocals contributed to an evening of enjoyment. Dominating the show were the many skillful chorus lines, including our own Senior Chorus Line, under Bob Fish, and Grace Tomaselli's Sophomore Chorus Line. Mr. Starke's Frolics Band added just the right accompaniment.

The story that co-ordinated these acts centered around a carnival. Rocky Fellows, a carnival barker, was surprised one day when his son quit college and wanted to join the carnival, following in his father's footsteps. As Rocky protested, trouble ensued along with romance, developing into an enjoyable situation.

As the carnival folded its tents, wrinkled costumes, unused make-up and clever routines were packed away for another year.

Teen-Age Diplomat Satu Tainio models a Finnish costume for Judy Straight, Pat Green, and Diane Feeney.

A friendly blond from Finland, Satu Tainio, has been with us this year as a teen-age diplomat, sharing our activities and giving us a better understanding of what her country and people are like.

Through Satu, two countries have met on a common ground, exchanged experiences, and have been made richer by it. We hope that we can continue learning about the world through our teen-age diplomats.

Junior Health Committee Representative, Pete Clark, and Chairman, Judy Emmanuel, review some of the health projects engaged in during the year.

At the Junior Health Council, high school representatives meet to discuss and swap ideas on health and to plan health projects. To awaken youth to the importance of maintaining good health is one of the prime objectives of this group.

The science labs at East have taken on a new glow as the once forsaken tools of science are put to work. Inquiring minds ponder the "whys" and "hows" of the universe. Under the direction of Mr. Guglin, the senior science club was created to preserve the already present desire for knowledge in students and develop the same enthusiasm in others. Through this club for senior high students, science has become more than just a subject; it has become a fascinating, exciting world of fact.

Since it is more advantageous to teach a young person new ideas, Mr. Jenkins formed the Junior Science Club to acquaint eighth and ninth graders with the amazing world of science. Under president, Rainer Sahmel, the members meet to discuss each others science hobbies and hear guest speakers. Mr. Jenkins encouraged members to develop a display or report to enter in the Brockport State Teachers College Science Fair, with confidence in their potential ability. It is hoped that more students will join the Junior Science Club, for it promises to be a credit to our school.

I'm wishing you all the best of everything. I have been a wonderful glow, we've had fun in school and in choir. Love'm luck, Benny

TO OUR BELOVED "PETE"

We Dedicate

THE FOLLOWING PAGES

Robert "Pete" McKay
Our lives made richer . . .

On November 5, 1957, our beloved Robert E. "Pete" McKay passed away. With Pete went the admiration of his colleagues and the love of his students.

Pete, affectionately called the "Dean of Rochester Coaches," loved athletics and the students who came under his guidance. From the time he started to coach until he died, he sincerely believed no student of his could be fully developed unless he participated in some athletic endeavor. Pete was a man dedicated to sports and the ideals for which they stood.

Pete came to East in 1917 from Merino, Colorado by way of Selma, Alabama, where he was a physical director for the Y.M.C.A. Through a remarkable forty years of coaching, Pete led his teams to win 33 city titles in soccer, baseball and football. Pete's soccer and baseball teams have been without a doubt some of the best to ever come out of a high school system.

The lives of the students who knew and worked with Pete have been made richer because of him, our school made poorer because of his death. We humbly dedicate the following pages in Pete's honor.

Champions in Sportsmanship . . .

For the first time in many years the East High soccer team, under the tutelage of Coach Ben Daly, did not finish as contenders for the section V title.

This year, Coach Daly fielded probably one of the greenest teams in quite some time as he started to rebuild with many promising prospects for the future year. Despite the lack of experience and the effects of the flu on the team, the Dalymen played hard and well, always showing that fighting spirit that has made our interscholastic rivals cherish a hard-earned victory over the Orient.

Wearing purple and white under the East High banner for the last time are seniors: Bill Champaigne and Igor Kozlowski, co-captains; Paul Zielinski, Tom Murphy, Bill Parr, John Thayer, Bill Lindner, Irving Crane, Al Pecora, Jim Dorschel, Lew Leone, and Bob Blanchard.

It has been some time since old East High has seen such a well-fielding and determined team as this year's squad. As is often the case, the final league standing, as well as win and loss results of a team, does not give it the merit it deserves. The Orientals finished in a three way tie for 4th place, with a final season tally of 3 wins and 3 losses. Coach Don Youngman and his team weathered everything this year from a 39-14 win over Monroe to forfeiting a win to the crippling effects of a flu outbreak. All in all, East has seen one of its best, high scoring teams to invade our opponent's gridiron.

Wearing an East High uniform for the last time are seniors: Pete Youngman, Norm Courtwright, Bonny Villa, Harry Green, Bob Lucacci, Dave Luitweiler, Chris Noun, George Serbu, Joe Spurchise, Pete Tabone, Frank Vaccaro, Herb Stepney and Moses Powell.

Once again the fleet-footed cross-country runners represented East High admirably in city competition. Although the squad finished in 5th place this year, Coach Anthony Beisman has started to mold a team that should become stronger as the seasons progress. Much credit is in order for this year's fighting team and its excellent coach.

Those trodding over the Cobbs Hill sod for the last time are seniors: Curtis Jackson, Albert Shuckra, and Oliver Swift.

J. V. BASKETBALL - 1958

The dying echoes of resounding basketballs found this year's J. V. basketball team tied for sixth place as the season came to a close. Under the first year coaching of Mr. Graham, the team compiled a 4 win-10 loss record.

At the start of the season, a tremendous amount of enthusiasm was displayed as a large number of boys turned up at tryouts. As a result, a Freshman as well as a J. V. team was formed. The Frosh team played a limited number of games and ended their season with a 1 win 1 loss total.

Our bowling squad, coached by Mr. Torrens, had a most successful season this year. The Varsity Keglers rolled up a final season total of 34 wins and 9 losses to put them in second place in city competition. The Junior Varsity team also had a creditable year tying for third place in league competition.

Bowling their last game for E. H. S. were seniors Sam Alaimo, Gerald DeWinde, George Meschko, Robert Sotile, Jerry Barton, Vincent Pulvino, Bill Green, and Fred Cappy.

COACH MCCLEAN

The East High finmen again represented their school admirably in city competition. Under the coaching of Mr. Morse and Mr. McClean, the team fared better in city competition this year than in previous years. Though a young team this year, the outlook is for an increasingly stronger team during the coming seasons as the nucleus of this year's squad will be back next year with the added experience behind them. The only person to be lost through graduation is Charles Parlopiano.

COACH YOUNGMAN

B. Champagne, A. Orlebeke, F. Loiacono, D. Gantt, Coach Youngman.

Under the tutelage of Don Youngman, his first season as mentor of the varsity, our basketball squad started the task of re-building after sustaining the loss of last year's championship team. This year's varsity was a very scrappy but inexperienced squad, though upset wins over Marshall and Charlotte showed our rivals that the Orient five is determined to win and will become a stronger threat in the coming season.

This year's varsity kept up the winning armory tradition by taking five of the eight contests there. The final season results showed the varsity in fifth place with a record of 6 wins and 10 losses.

Wearing purple and white for the last time are seniors, Bill Champaigne, Alton Owens, George Serbu, and Paul Zielinski.

WRESTLING 1958

Coach Tony Beisman assembled a surprisingly strong wrestling team this year, despite the loss of many veterans from last year's championship squad. This year's squad was a good one, but lacked strength in the upperweight classes, which accounts for our losses in many otherwise choice contests. Final season scores showed the grapplers breaking even with 4 wins and 4 losses, finishing in 4th place in city competition.

In the city wrestling tournament, East High was again well represented. Four from this year's squad, Pete Tabone, Moses Powell, Tony LaPietra, and Herb Stepney gained city final berths.

Wrestling in their last meet for East are seniors: Tony Dentico, Herb Stepney, Clem Sanza, Bob Lucacci, Pete Tabone, Moses Powell, Rudy Cali, and Tony LaPietra.

BASEBALL 1957

The 1957 Edition of the East High Baseball Team, under the coaching of Roger Morse, finished the season in 7th place with a final season box score of two wins and six losses. This was the first year as helmsman for Roger Morse, who took over the coaching chores for the then ailing Mr. McKay.

The 1957 edition was a good one composed of many veterans making for a well-rounded team, with exceptional strength on the mound. The potential of the Orientals was far greater than was ever realized.

The Junior Varsity squad batted .500 against their big brothers of the varsity as far as city competition went. The J-V squad, under the coaching of Mr. Graham, finished with a laudable five wins and no losses for the city championship. Congratulations to the J. V. team of '57. We hope that they will bring to East another championship as the Varsity of '58.

The 1957 Tennis Team, under the coaching of Robert Torrens, had an unusually fine season. In respect to previous teams it was quite exceptional. The team engaged in five matches, winning four of them, tying in one and losing another, thereby putting itself in second place in city competition.

East's 1957 Track Team was one of the strongest to be coached under the banner of the purple and white in quite some time. Coach Don Youngman had many returning veterans, as only a few members of the team had been lost in the previous year through graduation.

When the dust had cleared from the oval and when the cheering had died down the Cindermen nabbed 3rd place in city competition, sporting a 6 win, 2 loss record. East has been rightly proud of its track teams and this team is certainly no exception. It is hoped that the 1958 team, sparked by many returning veterans, will also have a successful season.

GOLF 1957

Once again East High was represented admirably by its 1957 golf team in city competition. Under the coaching of Mr. Torrens the boys teed off in eight meets but were only able to come out victorious once, thereby finishing in eighth place in city competition.

Back Row: R. Walczak, J. Castellani, F. Sidoti. Front Row: J. Spang, R. Rentze.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The G. A. A., under the direction of Mrs. Fischer and President Linda Morey, has provided many extra-curricular sport activities for the girls at East High. Tournaments in volleyball, basketball, baseball, ping-pong, and bowling, are carried on throughout the year. It is the purpose of the G. A. A. to stimulate interest in these and other sports activities. Highlight of the year is a banquet where awards and letters are presented to deserving girls.

Yea Bo's, Loud and Clear . . .

East High has been proud of its fine school spirit, and it is the job of the cheerleaders to keep East High's spirit on top. The Varsity squad, with captains Suzie Knittel and Diane Feeney, and the J. V. Squad, led by Lucille Fanelli, have done an excellent job not only in promoting school spirit but in stimulating more interest in the games themselves.

By leading the student body in many peppy cheers, they have made us feel that we too are helping our teams to win.

MAJORETTES

A new look has come to East High in the form of its Major-ette squad. New uniforms and routines have also been added.

Under the direction of Mr. Daly, Captain Nina Burnett and her squad have successfully performed at many of East High's games. We are especially proud of the fact that they were chosen to perform at the War Memorial where they were warmly received.

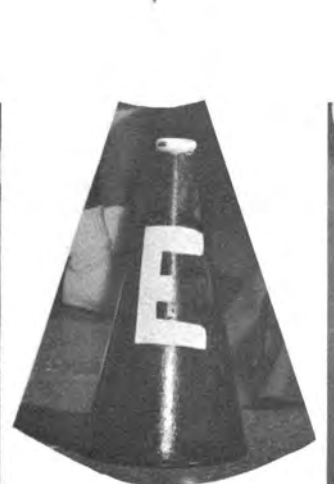

We also want to wish the squad best of luck in the coming seasons, and to heartily thank them for this fine year.
